

As someone who has followed the travails of LightSquared and the GPS industry, I am so pleased that the struggles appear to be coming to an end as our own northern VA company has put forth an admirable compromise. Please know that so much of our country will benefit from the additional competition and innovation in the wireless industry, and please approve the company's application for license modification.

I very much appreciate your consideration of my views.