

Verizon still charges for tethering... They say in order to tether you have to change your service and it costs an additional $20 per month, not only that but they change you from unlimited data to 2 gigabyte max. my understanding was that the FCC disallowed carriers to charge for this. call it what you will but from point A to B in order for me to tether it will be $20 extra per month... Please help...
Thank you