

Embarq employed by Securus employed by the Texas Department of Criminal Justice, apparently, is violating the Federal Telecommunications Act (47 U.S.C. 201 (a)-(b) by blocking calls from telephone numbers purchased from a registered VoIP, Millicorp (FCC Registration # 0018930511). I have spent approximately four hours on hold waiting for Embarq to refuse to register this telephone number xxxxxxxxx. If these parties are not in violation of this law, please tell me. There are three parties involved, no doubt they are all making money at the expense of families and friends of inmates in a state prison, Stiles Unit, Beaumont, TX. Are there not protections against gouging? Help me.
