

Media consolidation is undermining the ability of citizens to be informed. It is a clear indication of the decline of American democracy. The concentration of the power to control and disseminate news and information into the hands of fewer and fewer corporate media conglomerates warps and weakens our democracy. The FCC should permit NO FURTHER MEDIA CONSOLIDATION.