

The media already sways public interest in pre determined directions. This will only make us even more of a flock of sheep.