

I am against these changes.

Already low levels of ownership will be deminished even further by the proposed rule changes. Further consolidations would harm the entire media system, but would also have a disproportionate impact on diverse owners and the communities they serve.

I believe the media is better served by local voices.

Sincerely,

Mini Bascue