

I feel sure I clicked on something on the internet which opened my email to the world of junk mail or spam email. With that said, there is a site which I have tried to disconnect from and when i hit unsubscribe, it appears to be infecting my computer. "Credit Score"
<server@effectivebreakfast.com> I believe there should be some law in place to prosecute such activity. Thank you!