

My name is Ron Huckleby. The FCC mandated the conversion to digital television and caused me to purchase a new television set based on the promise of more free over-the-air channels. Do not shut down my local LPTV station. I want more free channels, not less. There are many individuals and groups that have invested in LPTV and in new digital transmitters. They should not be shut out of the broadcast spectrum just because more money can be made by wireless providers delivering content to handheld devices. Low-power TV stations that have operated in good faith and have complied with their license should be protected and kept on the air.
