

I was flabbergasted to learn of your wanting to allow brief partial nudity in prime time tv now and allowing expletive language with no repercussions. I know that a few weeks ago I was surfing and found that the USA channel was showing "Schindler's List" commercial free and UNCUT. There were so many "F-bombs" dropped in a three minute segment, I was sick to my stomach.

This will only lead to the moral decline in America (which you appear not to care about since you basically force the gay lifestyle in to almost every show that is on the air now).

The American people need good wholesome entertainment, and this can be achieved without the use of obscenities and nudity.

please take care and caution with this.