

The proposal to relax broadcasting standards for language and n.udity is absolutely unacceptable and an abdication of the responsibility the FCC has to protect the American public. There plenty of outlets for those who seek relaxed standards, including cable TV. Is it a bit ironic that I can't even submit this comment without masking the word n.udity?