

I believe that there is no place that foul language should be allowed or condoned, especially in public media where especially children would be subjected to its presence.