

I am totally against the use of foul language, nudity, sexual comments on radio, television, magazines, books, etc. I realize that the FCC only has jurisdiction over "on air" communications but I feel that it is extremely important to include other forms of media in my objection.

I am hopeful that you will not allow your agency to be 'politically' correct in this area but will insist on standards of decency.