

Your dropping of the ban on the F word, and on nudity and any other controversial moral issues your are considering to loosen your restrictions on, is just more in a long string of immorality that is brought into our country. This is part of a long string of expelling God from our society and removing any hand of protection He formerly held over our nation. 'To whom much has been given, much is required.' You are shunning the great responsibility you have been given. Shame on you if you allow this.
