

I oppose any changes to the current FCC indecency standards that would allow television and radio stations to broadcast expletives and nudity on the public airwaves, even if brief or "fleeting."

I am hoping that you, as responsible adults, would consider what you would want your children/grandchildren exposed to on television. If we continue to break down the barriers of morality and decency, what message are we sending to the next generation? Expletives and nudity do not enhance a program...it is a cheap, tawdry way to put together a show.

The Supreme Court has confirmed the FCC's authority to enforce policies regarding expletives and nudity, especially during times when children are likely to be watching or listening.

Relaxing the current policy would not serve the public interest and I urge the FCC to reject all proposals that would allow for the broadcast of expletives and nudity on FCC-licensed stations.

Your children, your grandchildren, and all children are counting on you. Thank you!
