

This is unacceptable. Profanity and nudity do not have a place on tv period whether small children are watching or not. Yes, we can turn the tv but if every station is going to end up being this way - what is there to watch. Most people like to watch meaningful programs that have good morals and a good story line. It's the writers and directors who have nothing to contribute that throw in the profanity and nudity because they lack a creative mind and can't articulate anything else. If you can't say anything good...just keep mouth shut.
