

Our children already face a daily assault on their innocence. Words do affect society and the words our children use after reflecting back what they hear through the media harm the dignity and goodwill of mankind.