

I agree with changes to the current FCC indecency standards that would allow television and radio stations to broadcast expletives and nudity on the public airwaves, even if brief or "fleeting."

The Supreme Court has confirmed the FCC's authority to enforce policies regarding expletives and nudity, especially during times when children are likely to be watching or listening.

Relaxing the current policy serves the public interest and I urge the FCC to accept all proposals that would allow for the broadcast of expletives and nudity on FCC-licensed stations.