

I adamantly oppose any changes to the current FCC indecency standards that would allow television and radio stations to broadcast expletives and nudity on the public airwaves, even if brief or "fleeting."

We are already bombarded by indecent and offensive lyrics, print material, and suggestive content all in the name free speech. Why should we permit more?

I understand the Supreme Court has confirmed the FCC's authority to enforce policies regarding expletives and nudity, especially during times when children are likely to be watching or listening. Why relax these standards? Do what is right, not what is politically correct!

Relaxing the current policy would not serve the public interest and I urge the FCC to reject all proposals that would allow for the broadcast of expletives and nudity on FCC-licensed stations.
