

Please, if for no other reason, protect our children's innocence. It really is all they have. Are we even willing to fight to protect that? We all love the precious innocence we see in our children--it touches the heart of most everyone. Exposing them to profanity, nudity, vulgarity only destroys that innocence. For this reason, I oppose any changes to the current FCC indecency standards that would allow television and radio stations to broadcast expletives and nudity on the public airwaves, even if brief or "fleeting."

The Supreme Court has confirmed the FCC's authority to enforce policies regarding expletives and nudity, especially during times when children are likely to be watching or listening.

Relaxing the current policy would not serve the public interest and I urge the FCC to reject all proposals that would allow for the broadcast of expletives and nudity on FCC-licensed stations.
