

I am completely against the relaxing of the language or content on television or radio. I feel that it is already too bad and would like to see it go in the other direction with more restrictions. It gives young people a bad idea of what mainstream people do and say. It does not reflect the values that we want our young people to have and does not support the family which makes for a strong society.