

I understand that you might allow the F word to be used on regular television stations. I am appalled by this. Swearing does not add any substance to the programming. In fact, I find it uncomfortable and disgusting. I do not watch cable stations because of this and I do not want to be concerned with what I and others might hear on regular programming. I also understand that full frontal female nudity is being considered as well. With violence against women escalating, why would you contribute to this violence by allowing this type of disrespect to air in the homes of families? It seems you have forgotten common decency, and I think that perhaps you should be replaced by people who have common sense and decency. I wish to go on record as opposed to these changes.
