

My role in life is given to helping people become overcomers and victorious successful individuals. One of the hindrances to being winning this battle is the constant and progressive degrading of the media of moral values. The promotion of vile and profane media communication encourages vile and profane lifestyle of individuals. Why would we want to expose our children and grandchildren to greater degradation of healthy values. I for one ardently oppose this radical increase of filth.