

I am writing today concerning the proposed changes to indecency laws concerning broadcast television and other mediums. I'm very happy to hear that obsolete restrictions on swear words and partial nudity will be relaxed. I plan to be a parent in the next 5 years, and I believe that this will promote healthy attitudes towards the human body and our language for my future children. Please do not allow religiously-motivated censorship in the name of "morality" to impinge on our freedoms. I wholeheartedly support this relaxation of censorship, and believe that as Americans, we have the freedom, and even the right, to see and hear what people have to say, even if we disagree with it.

Thanks very much for considering these changes, and I hope to see more like them in the future!
