

I support the change to the current FCC standards regarding "indecent" which would allow radio and television to broadcast certain words and nudity on public stations. The airwaves of the US should not be controlled by anti-freedom organizations such as the AFA and the citizens of this country should be allowed to decide for themselves which broadcasts meet their personal standards for what they and their children watch, not the standards decided by a group of people that do not represent the beliefs of many Americans.