

I think that the amount of profanity and nudity on public television is already very inappropriate. I think human sexuality is a sacred thing, and to present it or talk about it in lewd or irreverent ways is damaging to the spirit. Our children deserve to remain innocent a little longer.