

So much has changed in our world and most not for the better. I am so disappointed that the powers that be don't care about what is good for our children. PLEASE don't allow the filth of the world into our home.