

Individuals deserve the right to censor their own children according to their own values however a narrow minded segment of the population does not deserve the right to censor other people's children, though the government, based on their own concept of family values.