

I SUPPORT ANY AND ALL changes to the current FCC indecency standards that would allow television and radio stations to broadcast expletives and nudity on the public airwaves.

At the moment, extreme violence is shown as a matter of course. Few children, once they reach adulthood, should ever expect to encounter the type of violence common on the airwaves. However, we go to ridiculous extremes to censor naked bodies when we fully expect that children, once they grow up, will encounter normal sexual situations common in adult life. Situations allowed to be presented in broadcast should more closely map the type of experiences we as adults encounter, or should reasonably expect to encounter. Naked bodies and expletives are far less harmful than sights of people bleeding, mangled corpses, or firearms discharged at living people. We should normalize our approach to sex to match our approach to violence.

Once again, I SUPPORT ANY AND ALL CHANGES to ALLOW television and radio stations to broadcast expletives and nudity on the public airwaves.

Thank you for your time.
