

I oppose any changes to the current FCC indecency standards that would allow television and radio stations to broadcast expletives and nudity on the public airwaves, even if brief or "fleeting."

The Supreme Court has confirmed the FCC's authority to enforce policies regarding expletives and nudity, especially during times when children are likely to be watching or listening.

I am a 30 yr old married mother of two girls. I am appalled that the FCC is even considering relaxing the expletives and nudity standards. We currently limit the television our young girls are exposed to by watching shows on Hulu and selected shows on television. As a family, we will limit, even more, if full frontal nudity is more prevalent on t.v..

Relaxing the current policy would not serve the public interest and I urge the FCC to reject all proposals that would allow for the broadcast of expletives and nudity on FCC-licensed stations.
