

I understand from the AFA organization that you are considering to allow foul language, such as the "F" and "S" words and other immoral behavior to be allowed during the family hours of TV viewing. I would like to protest--my husband and I have already cut many programs over the years because of implied or said language. Having raised 8 children we feel this is part of the moral decline in our nation. Even people that do use such language are turning away from such programming. Please reconsider. One of the most common complaints I hear today is, "There is nothing on TV to watch anymore!" This is why our county Library is doing such a brisk business in DVDs from older programs.
