

I am very concerned about profanity and nudity -- once banned -- now being increasingly allowed on public TV and radio. It is both unnecessary and promotes a moral breakdown in US society -- with no redeeming value. The airwaves -- medium for all broadcasting -- belong to the American public, not broadcasters. The FCC must protect the interests of ALL Americans, not those who capitalize on moral degradation.