

I STRONGLY oppose any changes to the current FCC indecency standards that would allow television and radio stations to broadcast expletives and nudity on the public airwaves, even if brief or "fleeting."

The Supreme Court has confirmed the FCC's authority to enforce policies regarding expletives and nudity, especially during times when children are likely to be watching or listening.

Relaxing the current policy would not serve the public interest and I urge the FCC to reject all proposals that would allow for the broadcast of expletives and nudity on FCC-licensed stations.

PLEASE don't adopt a policy that forces parents to completely abolish the use of television or radio for their children. There are already MANY avenues to enjoy that type of content for those who care for it. Please don't take away the few options left for those who don't.
