

I firmly support the proposed changes to the current FCC indecency standards that would reduce the censorship of content on public airwaves.

The overreaching efforts of the limited memberships of hateful organizations such as the American Family Foundation have for too long stood to incorrectly represent the opinions of the vast majority of americans. We must stop teaching our children that the narrow mindedness of this tiny segment of our population should be allowed to control our nation.

They are well organized and motivated, but they do not speak for me, and many other who would like to see our television and radio stations given the freedom to broadcast the content they see fit.
