

I am against allowing the "F" word being used anywhere, much less on TV so it can come into my home. I feel the same way about nudity no matter how brief.

Futhermore, in the name of common decency, much of what is presented now, should be changed. I find it appalling that shows, I used to consider "smart", let anyone use any word, they just beep it. If these people want to be invited into decent peoples homes, they should be able to control themselves for one hour.
