

I think that isolated (non-sexual) nudity and expletives captured by chance, such as during a football game broadcast should not be banned or censored.

If the FCC wants to focus its indecency enforcement resources on egregious cases and to reduce the backlog of pending broadcast indecency complaints, I think this is a good idea