

One of the founding principles of America is Freedom of Speech. American communication at it's best consists of the sharing of ideas in the forms of art, information and entertainment without censorship. It is unacceptable to allow images and words of violence and hate yet ban other images of reality purely for purient reasons. I support the limiting of gratuitous expressions made purely for shock value, but not the selective ban of any expression that merely expresses common instances of life.