

Please keep our radio and tv free of nudity and cuss words. Its bad enough we have to block out language and scenes from the movies we rent. I don't want to have to do it with tv too. TV programs and commercials are already obscene enough the way they are currently. Do you really want to demoralize our children any more than they already have been through internet and violent moves/tv programs? Remember, they are our future and will be taking care of us someday. Do we want them using perverse words and obscene behavior because they believe that it is normal and acceptable? Once you go down that slippery slope, it is very difficult to climb back up!!!!

As an adult, I do not want to be exposed to violent language, and nudity. I think that a lack of crudeness and leaving a little more to the imagination is a lot more family friendly and gains a lot more viewers. I talk to a lot of people who feel the same way I do.
