

As a mother, grandmother, Christian and law abiding citizen, I HIGHLY and STRONGLY object to removing any and all restraints on the use of profanity and nudity on television and radio. I think that I or those I love should NOT be subjected to listening to such offensive language and visual insults to our values and beliefs as traditional American citizens.

In fact, I think that what is NOW being seen should be reviewed and curtailed as far as immoral content, offensive language and blaspheming the name of God and Christ. You are definitely headed in the WRONG direction on this one! TV and Radio not merely priviledges in our society but have now become essentials in our daily life for information and entertainment and the rights and sensibilities of all Americans should be considered, not just the media's desire to take us down further to the road to perdition and perversion.
