

Please keep some "class" and respect on our television. You have to be kidding that you think it a good thing to allow profanity and frontal nudity on network television. Respect family values and challenge writers of TV shows to get creative rather than shocking or crass.