

I strongly object to allowing expletives and nudity on public airways. It serves no purpose other than to degrade the quality of programming. It is offensive to most decent people who have a better vocabulary than those who depend on filthy words.