

The FCC's content restrictions are laughable compared to what is permitted in other countries. However, the FCC MUST ban the use of constant onscreen graphics, such as the network logos that have remained onscreen for over 15 years! Intentional ruining of the picture is what is really indecent and offensive!