

To the FCC who has great responsibility to the reason why entertainment exists, for the audience. When the content is offensive, indecent and hurtful to the upcoming generations, the FCC must take a stand to protect them. To make such potential changes, will inherently loosen and expand the type of content that producers and directors are already pushing to include to younger audiences which sexualize them at a younger age, exposes them to language and themes that they do NOT hear on the playground in the same detail. It is one thing to hear about it, it's another to see it condoned, accepted, glorified and have those images imprinted in our minds.

I oppose any changes to the current FCC indecency standards. The FCC must continue to vigorously oppose ALL indecent content, even if brief or fleeting.?

The Supreme Court has affirmed the FCC's authority to enforce policies prohibiting indecent broadcast content during hours when children are likely to be in the viewing or listening audience.

Relaxing the current policy would not serve the public interest and I urge the FCC to reject all proposals that would allow for the broadcast of expletives and nudity on FCC-licensed stations.

Please, do not consider the minority of viewers who seek such content, but the majority who seek continued exercise of restraint, taste, and balance, for the well being of all, especially our children.

Thank you for your time.

RD Boardman, Ph.D.
Licensed Psychologist