

I oppose a relaxation of any standards regarding inappropriate or expletive language and nudity on television. It does not serve the public's best interest to submit to the immoral standards of the liberal media society.