

There is enough expletives and nudity on TV now. To make it OK to use this on regular licensed programs is saying we are taking yet another slide into less class and culture in our society. Weaken the right to protect ourselves and then tempt us with more nudity and vulgarity doesn't seem to be the way to encourage a responsible society. What's next, pornographic commercials and news?