

I believe it is difficult enough to teach my child right from wrong, how to be respectful and speak without inappropriate words or phrases. We daily navigate the minefield of the internet and school, why should offensive language also be allowed on regular television? Please do not remove the ban, show that there still is a bit of decency in this country and that we haven't gone completely off the cliff of appropriate behavior.