

Thank you for taking our input!

Recently the Barna Group did a survey in which 70% of those surveyed felt that moral decay was a major problem in the United States.

We are earnestly requesting that the FCC continues to uphold standards and not to lower them. What people hear and see does affect their behavior. That is why advertisers and motivational speakers make so much money. Please do not lower standards as far as nudity and language. Thank you!