

Please do not change the current FCC standards. Nudity and obscene language like the F-word do not belong on TV and the radio-- family friendly entertainment and dialogue are best for public programs, and families across America will thank you for it. Those who don't mind or even prefer nudity and vulgar language already have multiple sources available to them and know where to go to find such entertainment.