

I would like to express my views against allowing explicit words and nudity to be heard and seen on television; especially at times when children and families are watching. Just as the first amendment allows freedom of speech, families also have the right to speak against having such content available to their children and families.