

I firmly believe that many of the problems modern society faces are linked to the declining moral standards found in all aspects of life. I think it is extremely important that high(er) standards be maintained in our television, movies, and other media. Please do not lower the enforcement guidelines... if anything, they need to be even stricter!