

I oppose any changes to the current FCC indecency standards that would allow television and radio stations to broadcast expletives and nudity on the public airwaves, even if brief or 'fleeting'.

The Supreme Court has confirmed the FCC's authority to enforce policies regarding expletives and nudity, especially during times when children are likely to be watching or listening.

IMO our society's moral standards have been slipping for years. Our children are continually exposed to filth in the media (TV, movies, video games, etc). I think that is one of the many contributing causes to the general lack of decency and respect for human life demonstrated in the recent mass shootings and bombings.

Relaxing the current policy would not serve the public interest and I urge the FCC to reject all proposals that would allow for the broadcast of expletives and nudity on FCC-licensed stations.
